

Dialogue, Writing, and Humanity in Troubled Times

A Conversation between
Professor Homi Bhabha and Professor Njabulo Ndebele

Moderated by: Professor Pumla Gobodo-Madikizela

Please join Stellenbosch University's Historical Trauma and Transformation Research Initiative, Indexing Transformation and Stias for an evening that promises to be a great moment in public dialogue and reflection.

HOMI BHABHA

NJABULO NDEBELE

In Conversation

Date
Wednesday, 16 August 2017

Time
17:30 - 19:00

New Venue
Attie van Wijk Auditorium,
Faculty of Theology
171 Dorp Street, Stellenbosch

RSVP | Enquires
Jolene Pietersen, jrp1@sun.ac.za

The two renowned scholars, Professor Homi Bhabha, who is the world's premier post-colonial literary theorist and Director of the Mahindra Humanities Center at Harvard University, and Emeritus Professor Njabulo Ndebele, Chairman of the Nelson Mandela Centre of Memory, poet, novelist and essayist who has received worldwide acclaim for his work, are known to integrate academic inquiry with public engagement, extending themselves well beyond scholarly concerns to challenge the status quo in troubled times.